

HONOR SYSTEM EXTERNAL NEWSLETTER

IMPORTANT UPDATES AND INFORMATION FOR FACULTY

The Honor System will be delivering faculty-liaison training virtually during the fall semester. Trainings will be delivered in the format of recorded videos that can be watched at any time. We are hoping to have live virtual training later this semester or early next semester. Becoming a faculty-liaison is a great way to get involved outside of the classroom and uphold the integrity of our University. More information can be found at studentconduct.unc.edu/honor-system

IMPORTANT UPDATES AND INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS

Remember to uphold the Honor Code during this semester! While classes may be online, the Honor System will still be operating. As a UNC student you have a high responsibility to maintain personal and academic integrity. Reach out if you have questions on how to maintain academic honesty.

Fast Tips!

One of the best ways to ensure students understand what is expected of them is by having a clear and precise syllabus that outlines class standards. Check out our website (<https://studentconduct.unc.edu/faculty/honor-syllabus>) for tips on how to create your syllabus.

We're here to help! Stop by the Office of Student Conduct Zoom office hours, Wed. and Thurs. from 1-3 p.m. This is a great time for accused students and faculty to drop in and have questions answered about cases (or potential cases).

Join Honor System Outreach! Our main goal is to spread accurate information about the Honor System and inform the campus community about the "Honor Code." We have opportunities for undergraduate and graduate students, as well as faculty. Joining the Honor System is a great way to improve communication and other professional skills. USER TESTIMONY

After each hearing staff members from the Office of Student Conduct meet with students to discuss their experiences with the Honor System. Here's some of the feedback we've received this semester:

- Students feel supported by their counsels and managing associates.
- Student routinely share that they are treated with professionalism and respect throughout the process
- Even though an honor system case may be stressful, students feel like their questions are answered and they have guidance on their options for navigating their case
- Student share that even in the hearing, Investigative Counsels and Honor Court members treat them with respect and do a good job
